

Double Sided Spacers Available

Glenn and Link Wachler have come up with another meaningful way for people to express themselves with double sided message spacers. Each side expresses a short message that is meaningful to the wearer. You can choose from the ones available in stock or have one custom made.

The meaning spacers can be worn on LifeLink™ bracelets, pendants, and earrings. They are sold individually and retail for $30 each. Custom orders are quoted by the piece.

New LifeLinks™ are on their way.

The LifeLink "Nice and Easy" will be released in the next 30 days. It depicts a Linky riding a turtle and reminds the wearer to take life a little more slowly. We live in a fast passed world and easily get caught up in the speed of things. Life doesn't have to be played fast. Sometimes it is nice to just soak it in. Maybe you know someone who could benefit from this LifeLink. Maybe it's you.

The LifeLink "Be Happy" will also be released in the next 30 days. It depicts a Linky jumping up for joy on a beautiful sunny day. It's all about perspective.

There are a lot of distractions in life that can bring us down but one way to rise above them is to jump up in the air and click your heels. Surround yourself with people that add to your happiness and look for ways to bring happiness to the world you live in.

Home For Life Fundraiser

A special double LifeLink was created for the Home for Life organization to present to Cesar Millan for all his contributions to the pet world. Creator's Link and Glenn Wachler of Wachler

Glenn and Link Wachler present Cesar Millan with LifeLinks™ Bracelet.

Ultimate Expression were on hand to make the special presentation. "It was an honor to finally meet Cesar," said Link as he has used some of the lessons learned in Cesar's book to help him with his pets. The evening was a great success and raised a lot of money to support the Home for Life Organization. You can learn more about how they humanly treat unwanted animals at www.homeforlife.org.

Thank you to everyone focused on meaning.

The holidays were a wonderful time for people to express themselves and we want to thank all of you for allowing us to participate in your meaningful gift giving.

There are too many to thank personally here but I would like to mention the woman in Palm Coast, FL. She gave her husband a large LifeLink symbol 2"x2" to be used as desk jewelry. He recently had a heart attack which made both of them realize how precious their days were together. This is what she has us inscribe on the back, "You & I - One Heart - One Soul - Forever". They were both very moved when the special gift was opened. We were too. Here is to a Meaningful 2008 for all of you.
